LOCAL WOMAN, 75, DIES OF EXPOSURE AND STARVATION

Direct descendant of Nathan Hale, popular American hero of the Revolutionary days, Miss Eugenia Hale, 75 years old, 253 South High street, this city, met her death at Mercy hospital, January 27 from the effects of living the life of a recluse it has just been brought out through the filing of her will with the county court, no one could gain access to the woman's home until a plumber, desiring to do some work on the water pipes, obtaining entrance was told by the woman that she was unable to grant admittance. Mrs. Eugenia Hale, city nurse, with Chief of Police Tom Morley, called upon for aid on December 24, discovered the aged woman lying upon a couch in a weakened condition. It developed that she had evidently been without food or fire for several days and was slowly starving and freezing.

It is believed that the woman had lived meagerly for many weeks, having supplies left at her home. She had lived alone in this house for years, becoming known as exceedingly eccentric.

The will which has been filed is dated September 15, 1903. While it does not name any particular sum, it states that after certain liabilities, such as jewelry and household goods, who are said to reside in the northern part of the state, the balance of her money, which she had received from the sale of the Hale street dwelling, valued at about $10,000, shall be given to the American Bible society, New York, and the National Temperance prohibition society of New York. However, it reads that in the event the organization should not be incorporated at the time of her death to receive bequests, the money shall be given to the Orphans' home of Chicago.

At the time of her death, efforts were being made to care for her. Miss Hale and the property she owned.

Inquiry reveals that prior to coming to Jansville, Miss Hale taught in a little Indiana town. Besides being a descendant of Nathan Hale, she was related to Timothy Hale, who died of starvation at Andersonville prison during the Civil war.

Home Made Picture Frames
By Carolyn Sherwin Bailey
As winter begins to go, you think of the future and of the things you will do. You have a whole box of photographs of country walks and friends who took tramps with you. Why not frame these pictures yourself?

The stiff cover of a note paper box makes a good frame. Lay the picture inside it, lay a card in it, and cut out this line with a sharp pen knife. Cover the cardboard frame with silk in a soft green or brown. Then draw on this built-up board a circle 12-in. in diameter and saw it out with a keyhole or jig saw. Slits to hold the paddles are needed next. For a paddle, cut out a piece of the wheel's edge and on each mark saw in one inch toward the center of the wheel. For a paddle wheel 9 in. in diameter, cut a groove in its edge with knife or file. Nail this to the big wheel with 1/2 in. in. being between each of the belt will clear the paddles. Bore a 3/4-in. hole through the center of each and, for a pivot, set up right on each side of the supporting arm (J).

For paddles, cut out 12 pieces of tin, each 2 by 3 1/2 in. These may be cut out of old tin cans with the tin shears. Slip the paddles into the slits in D and bend up the edges slightly to hold the sand. The motive power will be a pair of fine sand (A) on an improvised axle. Cut one-inch hole through the bottom of the pall and the shelf. Fasten an old funnel (C) below it to direct the stream of sand right on the paddles as they begin to reach a horizontal position. For a throttle, slide a piece of tin, 4 by 5 in., under the bottom of the pall to close the hole (B).

Run a cord belt from E to the machine or toy. Fill the top pall with sand, open the tin throttle, and let the tin can control the speed with the throttle by allowing more or less sand to flow through B.

For Boys to Make Handicraft

A SAND-POWER MOTOR
By G. M. Hyde.
"Show us how to make a motor, Uncle Bob, for my toys and make the wheels go round."
"All right, sonny, we'll make a sand water-wheel. It will be like a water wheel, but it will be turned by a stream of sand rather than a stream of water."

Making the Wheel
To make the wheel (D), get three pieces of 3/4-in. pine board, each 4 by 12 in., and fasten them together, edge to edge, with cleats. Then draw on this built-up board a circle 12-in. in diameter and saw it out with a keyhole or jig saw. Slits to hold the paddles are needed next. For a paddle, cut out a piece of the wheel's edge and on each mark saw in one inch toward the center of the wheel. For a paddle wheel 9 in. in diameter, cut a groove in its edge with knife or file. Nail this to the big wheel with 1/2 in. in. being between each of the belt will clear the paddles. Bore a 3/4-in. hole through the center of each and, for a pivot, set up right on each side of the supporting arm (J).

For paddles, cut out 12 pieces of tin, each 2 by 3 1/2 in. These may be cut out of old tin cans with the tin shears. Slip the paddles into the slits in D and bend up the edges slightly to hold the sand. The motive power will be a pair of fine sand (A) on an improvised axle. Cut one-inch hole through the bottom of the pall and the shelf. Fasten an old funnel (C) below it to direct the stream of sand right on the paddles as they begin to reach a horizontal position. For a throttle, slide a piece of tin, 4 by 5 in., under the bottom of the pall to close the hole (B).

Run a cord belt from E to the machine or toy. Fill the top pall with sand, open the tin throttle, and let the tin can control the speed with the throttle by allowing more or less sand to flow through B.

Carrying a Ton a Mile for less than a Cent

Freight rates have played a very small part in the rising cost of living.

Other causes—the waste of war, under-production, credit inflation—have added dollars to the cost of the necessities of life, while freight charges have added only cents.

The average charge for hauling a ton of freight a mile is less than a cent.

A suit of clothing that sold for $30 before the war was carried 2,265 miles by rail from Chicago to Los Angeles for 16¢ cents.

Now the freight charge is 22 cents and the suit sells for $50.

The cost of the suit has increased 20 dollars. The freight on it has increased only 5¢ cents. Other transportation charges enter into the cost of the finished article—carrying the wool to the mills and the cloth to the tailors—but these other charges amount to but a few cents more.

The $10 pair of shoes that used to sell for $5 goes from the New England factory to the Florida dealer for a freight charge of 5¢ cents—only one cent more than the pre-war rate.

Beef pays only two-thirds of a cent a pound freight from Chicago to New York.

American freight rates are the lowest in the world.

TWO MORE CLUBS
ADOPT ORPHANS

Two more clubs of the city, Twentieth Century and the Women's History, have adopted orphans in accordance with the campaign which the Near East Relief committee is making.

The Federated Baptist, St. Mary's and St. Patrick's church have done much active work and have donated funds for the support of Armenian orphans. The United Brethren is also raising funds for the cause.

John Gross, county secretary, said today individuals had not been donating but were leaving the work to the various orders of the city which could by no means reach Janesville's quota of 200 orphans. He said that the committee was anxious for individuals to make donations however small. They may be sent to J. M. Beck, county treasurer, Rock County National bank.

Members of 12th various clubs are making personal solicitation in their clubs or lodges for those who wish to donate individually.

The drive begins Feb. 9 and lasts until Feb. 22.

Maxwell

Extra Fine in Metals
Extra Fine in Mileage

A Maxwell car weighs 2130 pounds. It is made of the finest materials that may be obtained.

You cannot find in any car a better crankshaft, better bearings, better axles or better gears.

Neither science nor money can produce them better.

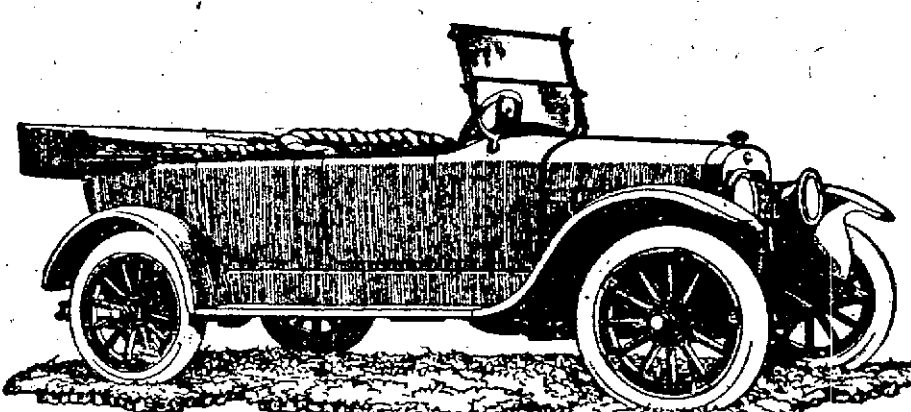

Do you know why such fine materials are used in a car like Maxwell?

We had to.

Keeping its weight down, and yet maintaining strength mean the use of only those extra fine steels and metals.

For a metal that is light in weight and yet strong, as any user of metals knows, is a high priced metal.

The use of these fine grades of steel has been the foundation of the business. Maxwell has grown in numbers and friends. The latter countless, the former well on the road to 400,000.

COMPULSORY MILITARY TRAINING.

Universal military training as advocated by congress may have its redeeming features, but it also has a great many points against it. Aside from the abnormal cost per year for maintenance, as pointed out by Senator Borah, there is the still greater fault of moral effect upon the youth of the nation, a matter in which every parent in the country is vitally interested.

The army camp, as we have known it, is not the most elevating place and the many instances where galling unnecessary indignities reported by those men who were subjected to them by petty officers and others do not tend to heighten the desire for a compulsory training. Preparedness is a necessary thing, we all admit. It can be accomplished through the system of national guard. At least if we are to have compulsory army camp training there should be a choice as between service in the national guard with its yearly encampment and the army camp.

The rudiments of military training are gained with the national guard and in the event of war intensive training is necessary with all branches of the service. The Gazette believes parents are interested in this matter and would like some expression from them for publication. What are your views?

PUBLIC DEFENSE COMES FIRST.

A huge volume of dangerous piffo is being uttered in protest against supposed efforts to strike down fundamental American liberties. Proposed anti-sedition laws and governmental activities in suppression of public enemies who advocate and practice violence are denounced by those who should know better, and specious arguments advanced to support claims that Americans are being deprived of their inalienable and constitutional guaranteed rights.

Some overworked persons have solemnly declared that some proposed legislation would make the Declaration of Independence a seditious document. That is an extreme view, put forward, we believe, simply to point the danger there may be in adopting unwarranted extreme measures of public protection in a time of great peril. The evil of it is that it is tantamount to giving aid and comfort to the enemy. Opposition to lawful methods of combatting the insidious warfare that is being waged against the people and government of the United States is comparable to obstructing the government in the prosecution of war formally declared, as when we drew the sword against Germany.

Of hare-brained political notions, lawfully advocated, we need never be in fear. That kind have been advanced, debated and voted on time and time again. Some of them have gained quite respectable followings. Some of them have led ultimately to public benefit. Those which contained no merit fell by the wayside. There is no menace in open, sincere advocacy of political nostrums, however fantastic the latter may be. There is grave danger in the secret agitations of foreign revolutionaries designed to bring about armed uprisings of a minority to seize all power and all property and to impose a tyrannical government on Americans. We cannot afford to be tender in our treatment of those people.

True Americans will be as ready to make essential sacrifices for the common safety in the necessary warfare against the reds as they were temporarily to yield some of their prized rights in order that we might win the war with Germany. When victory is secured we shall get back everything which for the time being we tender for use in the public defense.

IF RUSSIA GOES TO WORK.

Little difference is to be plied in news coming out of Russia, but there is possibly a degree of truth in the report that the bolsheviks have decreed a 12-hour day and seven-day week with positive instructions for everybody to go to work. It is reasonable to believe that Russia is impoverished, notwithstanding reports that the country has surplus products which it can export in exchange for commodities essential to its industrial rehabilitation. And it is certain that it cannot retain any economic standing unless the Russians go to work.

For the bolshevik experiment in industrial management by the laboring classes on a basis of short hours and high pay the rest of the world has something to be thankful, though there is small reason to believe that the lesson has made a deep impression where it is most essential that it be acted upon. Russia has demonstrated its futility. She has suffered most from the famine, but she will recover quickest from it if she does the indicated thing, once she is convinced of what is right to be done. If the Russians go to work they will reap the largest share of the benefits derivable from the resumption of trade with their country by the entente nations. Profits will go to the people who have things to sell that other peoples want. Those things must be produced. They will not produce themselves. The people have got to go to work or they must pay the penalty of their idleness.

The Russians made a bad start. Their economic theories were unsound. A lot of other people who should have known them to be unsound paid the Leningrad out the compliment of trying to imitate it. They are still clamoring for that which the Russians have demonstrated to be impossible. What will those people do now if the news that the Russians are going to work proves true? They also must go to work or be left in the race for livelihood and prosperity. The bolshevik government has been generally denounced for its

MAKING YOUR OWN WORLD.

The liar said: "It's a bitter world and it's hard to get along. It's a cruel world with its fellow men and they're cruel when they are strong; they're sneer, and jeer in a vicious way and they hinder you all they can. And there's no such thing as fellowship in the selfish heart of man."

Then I thought to myself—it is no doubt true that rough is the world, and cold. To the men who have battered the truth for gain and are known by the lies they've told.

The cheat exclaimed: "It's a vicious world and nobody cares at all. Whether you live or whether you die or whether you rise or fall; Let poets and sages write fine words and sing of the joy of life—I tell you the days on earth are filled with hatred and scorn and strife."

And I thought to myself—it is no doubt true that little of joy you'll meet. If your path is strewn with your broken faith and you've played the game as a cheat.

But the honest man, with his head erect, will tell you that men are fair. That the world is peopled with honest friends who are gentle and kind and really care. That smiles await him where'er he goes, and never there comes a day. But someone offers a friendly hand to help him along his way.

Oh, the world is hard if you lie or cheat, but it's gentle and kind if you're true. If only you'd live as an honest man, and do what a man should do.

Backward Glimpses

FORTY YEARS AGO
Feb. 3, 1880.—The Bower City band gave their annual concert last night and it was the most successful of any they have ever given. Part of the program was vocal. Mrs. J. W. St. John, Mrs. H. S. Smith and Ben Grove, of Chicago giving several selections. Prof. Titcomb served as accompanist.—The African church fund has received a boost of $6.

THIRTY YEARS AGO
Feb. 3, 1890.—The members of all the committees for the Charity Ball for the City Hospital will meet Wednesday evening in the Associated Charities rooms to complete arrangements.—Robbers entered the store of Burns and Boland last night, late, and succeeded in stealing goods amounting to about $500. No clue has been discovered.

TWENTY YEARS AGO
Feb. 3, 1900.—The dance of the Rusk Lyceum last night at the East Side Old Fellows hall introduced an innovation in dancing in having all the lights turned out during one dance. This plan was favored by all.—James Clarke died yesterday afternoon of liver trouble. He was one of the early settlers of the city and ran a cigar store here for many years.

TEN YEARS AGO
Feb. 3, 1910.—The new sewer, on the west side of the river was officially tested today and found to be very successful. The water was turned on and the entire west side system was flushed. It was tested by City Engineer C. V. Kerch.—The race for the two cups, offered by local men for the fastest horse on the ice, were run off this afternoon.

Mute Workmen

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN, Director

Janesville Daily Gazette Information Bureau,
Washington, D. C.

Washington, Feb. 3.—The theory that the individual who has suffered some misfortune and is handicapped by it is not a good buy on the labor market has again been disproven. One of the best of the workmen in Akron, Ohio, has placed on its payroll six hundred people who can neither hear nor speak, and these have demonstrated that they are as efficient as any other group in the entire organization.

About this group of actual workers is gathered a many more of their kind, dependents upon them, and thus there has developed at Akron the largest colony of "deaf-mutes" to be found in the industrial life of the nation. They take their places as independent, self-reliant citizens, who ask no more indulgence from the best equipped members of society.

The successful employment of this group of mute workers is an additional proof of the theory that has been developing in the west in the past few years—a theory that there are many "deaf-mutes" in the world who are not "deaf-mutes" in the way in which they think, but in the way in which they are treated.

Handicapped People Get Jobs
The Handicapped Bureau of Chicago gave this group of mute workers a chance to prove their worth. It persuaded employers to take over their plants and find the places into which one-legged people, blind people, and those who cannot hear or speak could be fitted. It supplied these handicapped persons for these special positions.

It is less likely to employ them in the factory, because it was almost a matter of life and death with them, that they often get better work at certain tasks than normal workers.

This is found to be true of the mutes at Akron. In a big plant there are many who are deaf-mutes, and their work is not lessened by their handicap. The person without hearing escapes annoyance from the noise. The person without speech is not bothered by the noise of a task which requires concentration, if he cannot join in the talk about him.

Many of these deaf-mutes are stockholders in the company for which they work, and home owners. The running of the company is not lessened by their handicap. They are not less likely to be employed in the factory, because it was almost a matter of life and death with them, that they often get better work at certain tasks than normal workers.

Recently officials of the company were persuaded to give deaf-mute factory girls a chance at office work. Skeptical at first, they were agreeably surprised at the rapidity with which the deaf-mute girls grasped details and successfully overcame their handicaps. So mentally alert, so quick to grasp ideas, they were so efficient that they were determined to succeed was one of these deaf-mute girls that within two weeks she was performing unassisted and in a high satisfactory manner work which it had taken her immediate predecessor, a girl who could both hear and speak.

Broadhead, Feb. 2.—Peter Taylor, Jr., died at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Taylor, in the town of Spring Valley, Sunday. He was 31 years of age and was suffering with pneumonia for a short time.

News reached here Sunday of the death of Rev. George N. Foster at his home in Madison, a week after the death of Mrs. Foster, both having had pneumonia. Mr. Foster was for four years pastor of the Broadhead M. E. church.

David Roderick, Juda, died at his home in that village Saturday night, after a short illness. He was formerly a resident of Broadhead and leaves many relatives and friends to mourn his death.

Word has been received here of the death of Mrs. Alice Roanthee, Buchanan, Mich. Mrs. Roanthee spent many years in Broadhead and leaves many friends.

Miss Emma Lyons returned Saturday evening from a visit to her sister, Mrs. Charles Croak.

G. W. Agnew went to Janesville Saturday to see his son, Russell, who has been sick a week.

W. Skinner went to Oshkosh Saturday on account of the serious illness of his sister, Mrs. Ed. Benjamin.

John Pinnow, Camp Grant, spent the week here with his parents.

Charles Schwitzer, who was here on account of the death and funeral of his father-in-law, Washington Thompson, returned Saturday to his home in Chicago.

Miss Hazel Taylor left this morning for Appleton where she will attend Lawrence college.

Theodore Schenck was taken suddenly ill Saturday night with appendicitis. He was taken to the hospital in Janesville Sunday afternoon.

W. Mitchell, who has been seriously ill with pneumonia, is much better.

Frank Hensch is seriously ill with pneumonia at his home at Spring Valley Corners.

William Maynard and son, Harry, Beloit, spent Saturday and Sunday with old time Broadhead friends.

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT

ROY K. MOULTON

The Modern Mistress
She had made a splendid record on the battlefield as a nurse. She had made a record for her credit. For great deeds we can't rehearse.

She had served in France and Russia. And on sea as well as land. Men of station, leaders, nobles. Had contended for her hand.

But she gave them not her millions. She could not be courted so. She came home and wed her chauffeur.

And we said, "I told you so!" —Walter Pulitzer.

SHOULD A WIFE BE A HOME-MAKER OR A LAYMAN?
Dear Roy: My mother wanted me to marry a clergyman. She said, "When I was 24, but I turned her down for a pretty stenographer, who worked for a big insurance firm downtown, and we had a happy married life."

At the declaration of war I volunteered, and was assigned to the four sections of the "Red Cross" in the city. My wife had higher ambitions for me, and it pained her not to have me make a general right away.

So she became head of a nursing section for sick horses in our community, and spent all her time at the stable. I didn't mind that then. But after I was mustered out of my permanent station in Arkansas, I found that my living room and my library had been turned into a veritable barnyard for sick colts and things. I didn't mind that either.

I carried a small vial in my pocket. It contained a deadly poison—deadly only to horses. I managed to administer this to the animals in my first parlor. They died ignominiously, despite my wife's nursing. This performance I repeated a number of times.

Till my wife, realizing that her nursing abilities were failing, resigned from her position—and came back to me—her lawful husband.

ICHABOD HANKS.

OLD IRVING DAVIS SAYS:

Those who are well-to-do are generally hard-to-do. Many employees who have a good employer and really can't do too much for him, are foolish enough not to.

Don't become a contractor if your specialty is "Dobbs." Fashion put a taboo upon large hats, because they emphasized the smallness of one's cranium. Especially if it's your own!

Evidently Samuel Taylor Coleridge had a number of nervous cases. He wrote the famous passage in "The Ancient Mariner": "Water, water everywhere, and not a drop to drink!"

We trust that it was the latest mode of hat that Lucy Page Gaston threw into the presidential election. If it was, the feminine vote will be sure to talk about it.

Referring to a certain cartoonist, a "wonder" paper said: "He stands alone." We have seen this same cartoonist when he couldn't do that.

Jack Nash sees by the papers that Charles M. Schwab is boosting Wood, and wonders if Charlie is tired of iron and steel.

A Yonkers store, according to M. H. Y., is advertising "Stockings 36 inches wide. That would be the kind to hang up for Christmas."

ASK US

The Gazette maintains an information bureau at Washington, D. C., under the direction of Frederic Haskin. Questions will be answered on any subject. Those desiring information, may write a letter to the Janesville Daily Gazette, Information Bureau, Washington D. C., and enclose a stamp. The letter will be answered by the bureau.

Q. How many of the present members of President Wilson's cabinet were appointed when the president first took office? A. S. F.

A. There are only four men in the cabinet who were members when it was first organized seven years ago. They were: Daniels, Lane and Wilson, and Postmaster General Burleson. Of these, Secretary Lane has announced his intention to resign from the cabinet as soon as the president can arrange to appoint his successor.

Q. What was the increase allowed enlisted men in the army under the terms of the military bill now before congress? A. S. F.

A. This bill provides to leave the pay of the private at $30, as it is today. The pay of a first class private is increased from $33 to $35.00; the pay of a corporal is increased from $36 to $38.00; a line sergeant is increased from $38 to $40.00, while a staff sergeant is increased from $44 to $52.00.

Q. What was the origin of the expression "Hobson's choice?" A. S. F.

H. W. S. Hobson, who died in 1830, was the first man in England who hired out hackney horses. When a man came for a horse, no matter how many there were in the stable, he was obliged to take the one nearest the door. The man hiring the horse had no choice in the matter. It was "Hobson's choice."

Q. Will you suggest a good way to clean a floor mop? A. S. F.

A. To clean a floor mop which is badly soiled immerse it in a soap bath which should be kept at nearly a boiling temperature. Benzine or turpentine is also a good solvent for removing oil stains from the mop.

Q. Among the various Protestant religions in the United States, which ranks first in total membership? A. S. F.

A. The Methodist denomination ranks first with 7,125,089, according to the latest available statistics. The Episcopalians are a close second, numbering 6,120,487.

ican troops to France? S. B. H. transported to Europe on British

A. Great Britain received $76.24 vessels. This sum included food, from the United States government medical attention, and all other expenses for each of our soldiers that was possible.

Cincinnati man tells how to lift off any corn without hurting one bit

You reckless men and women who are pestered with corns and who have at least once a week invited an awful death from lockjaw or blood poison are now told by a Cincinnati authority to use a drug called Freecorn, which the moment a few drops are applied to any corn, the soreness is relieved and soon the entire corn, root and all, lifts out with the fingers.

It is a sticky substance which dries the moment it is applied and is said to simply smother the corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin. It is claimed that a quarter of an ounce of Freecorn will cost very little at any of the drug stores, but is sufficient to rid one of every hard or soft corn or callus.

You are further warned that putting a corn is a suicidal habit. Advertisement.

FALLS SEVEN STORIES AND LANDS ON HIS FEET

New York.—Compound fractures of both ankles and both feet were the only serious injuries sustained by John Ralph Williams, army chauffeur, of 78 Charles street, when he landed on his feet after falling seven stories from the roof of 300 West Eighty-ninth street, where he had gone to take the air while attending a party.

Williams was taken to Knickerbocker hospital by Dr. Seina. His head was also bruised after his spectacular landing right side up.

Why Druggists Recommend Swamp-Root

For many years druggists have watched with much interest the remarkable record maintained by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder medicine. It is a physician's prescription. Swamp-Root is a strengthening medicine. It helps the kidneys, liver and bladder do the work nature intended they should do.
Swamp-Root has stood the test of years. It is sold by all druggists on its merits and should help you. No other kidney medicine has so many friends.

Be sure to get Swamp-Root and start treatment at once.
However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention the Janesville Daily Gazette. Advertisement.

A Dress Suit and a Shave Won't Do It

To be at your best, you must feel at your best. The man that is magnetic, popular, successful—is the one who radiates vigor and health. Nothing pulls a man down more surely—more insidiously—than constipation. The poisons arising from the decaying intestinal matter take the color out of your face and the "pep" from your stride. Keep clean—inside as well as out.

By an entirely new principle Nujol will keep the poisonous waste moving out of the body. Every other form of treatment either irritates or forces the system. Nujol works on the waste matter instead of on the system.

Nujol prevents constipation by keeping the food waste soft, thus helping Nature establish easy, thorough bowel evacuation at regular intervals—the healthiest habit in the world.

It is absolutely harmless and pleasant to take—try it.

Nujol is sold by all druggists in sealed bottles only bearing Nujol trade-mark. Write Nujol Laboratories, Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey), 50 Broadway, New York, for booklet "Thirty Feet of Danger."

NAME 'BAYER' MEANS ASPIRIN IS GENUINE

Safely stop colds as told in "Bayer Packages"

To break up a cold in the head, back, or any part of body be sure you take only "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" with the safety "Bayer Cross" on them. This is the genuine Aspirin, proved safe by millions and prescribed by physicians for over eight years.
You must say "Bayer"—Don't merely ask for Aspirin Tablets. Then you can take them without fear, to relieve your Colds, Headache, Neuralgia, Earache, Toothache, Rheumatism, Sciatica, Lumbago, Neuritis, and Pains generally.
Handy tin boxes containing 12 tablets cost only a few cents. Druggists also sell larger "Bayer" packages. Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monacetic-acidester of Salicylicacid. Advertisement.

The Quick Way to Stop a Cough
This home-made syrup does the work in a hurry. Really prevents colds and saves about $2.

You might be surprised to know that the best thing you can use for a severe cough, is a remedy which is easily prepared at home in just a few moments. It's cheap, but for prompt results it beats anything else you ever tried. Usually stops the ordinary cough or chest cold in 24 hours. Tastes pleasant, too—children like it—and it's good.

Pour 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex in a pint bottle; then fill it up with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup, if desired. Thus you make a full pint—a family supply—but costing no more than a small bottle of ready-made cough syrup.

And as a cough medicine, there is really nothing better to be had at any price. It goes right to the spot and gives quick, lasting relief. It promptly loosens the inflamed membranes that line the throat and air passages, stops the annoying throat tickle, loosens the phlegm, and soon your cough stops entirely. Splendid for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway pine extract, famous for its healing effect on the membranes.
To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with X-marks and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

200-YEAR OLD TREES
London, Eng.—Several tree trunks, about 20 feet in length, were unearthed during excavations in Shaftsbury avenue. They are fir trees, with the center bored through to a diameter of 8 or 10 inches, and are in a fine state of preservation. They have been underground for 200 years, and were used as conduits for the water supply of London before the advent of iron pipes.

AUTOBIOGRAPHY OF A PLAIN BABY—V

A good many of us babies get a hard deal through the health-ignorance of our mothers. It is a queer thing, far beyond my feeble comprehension, how parents will raise a daughter and see her married off and imagine they have done their best for her, and yet they have never given her the slightest instruction in the greatest of all callings—motherhood. Why don't the public schools, the high schools at least, teach such things? Look at the mothers of the future, the mothers who are to give the "fair education." Fair? I call it very unfair to use babies.

My dad, the doctor, says the cause of inflammation of the breast of a nursing mother is infection through the nipple. Trifling, perhaps unnoticed cracks of the skin afford the means of entry for germs which are normally present on the surface of the cleanest skin. Therefore they went to considerable trouble in the first four weeks of my life, to bathe the nipples and surrounding skin carefully with boric acid solution (tablespoonful of boric acid dissolved in a pint of boiled water) and then to rinse with pure boiled water so that no taste of the boric acid should be reached when I nursed. After the fourth week there is much less likelihood of breast inflammation or abscess and the precaution may be limited, since the mother will have acquired natural resistance sufficient to protect her against the danger of such infection.

Heart and Home Problems

By ELIZABETH THOMPSON
Letters May be Addressed to Mrs. Thompson, in Care of the Gazette

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a married woman with three little children, and my home is a good provider. But he is a perfect brute. The children are all afraid of him and he is very unpleasant as a companion. He never wants me to go outside of the house, and stays as long as he wants to. He wants me to be a slave and never gives me an encouraging word. I am getting disgusted with it all. I love my babies more than my own life and I have sacrificed a lot for their benefit, but I simply can't stand it much longer. I loved him once, but he has called me vile names without reason until my affection has been spoiled. Please advise me. HINT-BROKEN.

Your husband deserves to lose you since he brings nothing but unhappiness into the home. It is doubtful, however, if you could do as well if you left. It is unfortunate that the children must grow up in such an atmosphere, but it is better than to have them want for food and clothing. Try a silence cure. Do not argue with your husband or answer back. Of course you should try to find out the things that irritate him most and avoid stirring his anger. But if you are not a chance to think you are afraid of him. Whatever you do, do fearlessly. He will respect you when you are independent. When you want to go places you should go and remain silent and let him scold until he is tired of hearing himself. Dear Mrs. Thompson: What do you think of a girl who would call

She Married an Average Man

By ZOE BECKLEY

Either spring or some demon has got me in its clutches. Yet spring is called "gentle," for all its fevers and discontents, its restlessness, yearnings and fiery rebellions. I don't know what is the matter with me except that I cannot endure the idea of going away to that horrible hole of a Hammonds' Corner. Something inside me seems to have blown a fuse and I have gotten beyond my control. For days I have been fighting this. Today I finished my last work and I thought I was free. I took it down myself to Randy Lynch, the editor. As I explained to him that Jim and I were leaving New York to go to the "Correspondence Corner," the wickedness that has been seething in my blood seemed to rise to my very brain and scorch it. Lynch said he was "sorry to lose the most intelligent woman on his staff," and this added fuel to the flames. I found myself in the street pelting along for dear life, bumping into people, avoiding vehicles and horses' hoofs by a miracle. I walked and walked miles. I think. In my brain the words kept revolving: "I won't go! I won't go! I won't go!" I was in that tomb of a Hammonds' Corner. No—no, you must go; you've promised to go; you must consider Jim's job; your husband. I won't go! I won't go! And so it went on, like two voices quarreling inside my burning head. I have read somewhere the theory that we are all, at times, a little crazy, especially women. And that some of us have "dual personalities." Well—I certainly must have. My good personality bids me be a virtuous, model wife, give up my own wishes, my beloved work, and accompany my husband to the place where his success is assured. The suddenly awakened demon in me screams: "Don't go; be true; be

New York—Among old laws against kissing of females appear to have been the most severe. Banishment was the penalty laid down for kissing another man's wife, either with or without her consent, and the same punishment was enforced for kissing an unmarried woman against her will.

TRULY "SHINING" EXAMPLES OF MILLINERS' ART ARE THESE CLEVER NEW SPRING HATS

By ELOISE.
One is dazzled in more ways than one by the new millinery displays in the show windows. The brilliant colors which always predominate in the spring are dazzling in themselves, but as if they were not enough the newest and most fashionable hats are made of the shiniest kind of straw and trimmed with the shiniest ribbons and flowers. Cellophane is the name of the newest millinery feature. It is a beautiful shiny, shimmering, almost transparent substance in many cases like unto a butterfly wing, truly one of the prettiest novelties the millinery world has known in many a year. The sizes and shapes show great variety this season. The one predominant seeming to be that there be no angles. Soft draping and smooth rolling brims are much in evidence, and Egyptian and Chinese colorings are given preference. Here are two smart little suit hats which are very appealing, especially for wear as "first" hats. Both are of shiny Viscra straw made on the off-the-face lines which are so popular. The navy little close-fitting turban is a rich brown shade. Its rolling brim is slit at the side and a beautiful bow of brown grain ribbon is pulled through with a studied carelessness which gives a charming youthful effect. The modified turban is a brilliant cerise shade. The captured brim is of straw and the crown is satin. The only trimming is an oriental tassel to match. Both of these hats are designed for the very young girl or the woman with a very youthful face, for tassels and brimless hats are cruel to the lined face.

The Daily Novelette

PIERCING THE FUTURE.

It was the sixth night of the Bum-bum Opplams Charity Benefit. The ballroom that the elite of Flitterville was holding. The ballroom was tastefully decorated with red and yellow ferns, for it was autumn and the liddedewink birds tweeted dolefully. She was quite the prettiest girl there except for an evening of richly vivid freckles covering her nose and cheeks. Gypsey she peeped at the gypsy fortune-teller's tent. A little evil-smelling brew was boiling over in the nearby. An artificial moon hung above, while a low droning came from within. "Timidly she entered the tent, the weird, uncanniness of the place making her shiver all over. A dark-skinned, dark-eyed, black-haired woman was sitting cross-legged on the floor mumbling over some cards spread out before her. A cat leaped down, while an owl glared wisely down, and the evil hissing of the snake in the corner only made the girl quiver more shudderingly. "Bravely she stilled her heartbeats, determined to pierce the mystic veil of the future and see the forbidden, the unknown. "Breathlessly she waited, pain outstretched, for the gypsy's prophetic words. "A long life," droned the seeress.

BREADS.

Rye Bread.—Put one quart of rye flour and one quart of wheat flour in your pan; mix that together with a handful of salt.
Put two cakes of compressed yeast in one-half cup of lukewarm water with one tablespoon of sugar. In twenty minutes that yeast is ready. Get one quart of lukewarm water and put it in, then put in your flour, stir up to a thick paste. Let rise in a warm place until light, then put in a good tablespoon of lard and mix to a nice stiff dough.
Let rise again one hour, then make three parts of this and put in pans. You will have three, evenly leaved loaves. Bake in a nicely heated oven for forty-five minutes.
Boston Brown Bread.—One cup Graham flour, one cup white flour, one cup cornmeal (yellow), one-half teaspoon salt, one-half cup molasses, one level teaspoon soda.
Mix to a soft batter with hot water. Put in three greased one-pound baking tins, filling each a little more than one-half full. Steam one and one-half hours.

FOR THE TABLE.

Filip.—One teaspoon of ground beef, one large cup boiled rice, one large cup tomatoes, about a tablespoon butter, salt and pepper. Mix all together and bake one hour. This serves six people.
Boston Baked Beans.—(serves four persons).—Pick over cup of dried beans, cover with cold water and soak over night. In morning drain, cover with fresh cold water and heat slowly. Cook slowly (barely boiling) until string will burst, which is best determined by taking a few beans on the tip of a spoon and blowing them. Skins will burst when beans are sufficiently cooked.
Bean Soup.—(Throw bean water outdoors, not in sink.)
Scald rinsed of one-third pound of bacon, remove one-quarter inch slice and put in bottom of baking dish. Cut remaining pieces of bacon three times in one-half inch slices of chunks. Put beans in baking dish and bury pork in beans, leaving rind exposed.
Now mix one teaspoon of salt, three tablespoons sugar, one-half tablespoon New Orleans or other good brand of molasses; add one cup boiling water and pour over beans; then add enough more boiling water to cover beans. Place a lid on pan, put in oven and cook slowly five or six hours, uncovering last hour or so, so that bacon rind may become crisp. Add water when needed during baking.
Hawaiian Salad.—In the center of a bowl bordered with lettuce orange slices of pineapple, garnish with strips of pimientos and serve with a light mayonnaise.
Escalloped Vegetables.—Arrange the cooked vegetables in a baking dish in alternate layers with white sauce. Cover with buttered crumbs and brown in oven. Cheese, curry powder, peppers or chopped meat may be added if desired.

Portage—Eleven head of milch cows and two horses were drowned in the Fox river on the farm of Henry A. Gunderson, near here. The animals ventured out on the ice to drink, when their weight caused the ice to give way.

CHURCH WOMEN TO VOTE.
The Protestant Episcopal diocese of eastern Missouri at its annual convention unanimously passed a resolution giving deaconesses the privilege of voting in diocesan conventions, on the same basis as the clergy.
So far as Episcopalians know, this is the first diocese in the United States to take such action.

ODD BITS ABOUT WOMEN

WITH THE WOMEN OF TODAY

Women always seem to have a sense of duty to others. It makes them form clubs for the protection of children, or working girls, dumb animals or birds or the thousands of other things of which they appoint themselves the guardian. It is this feeling for other people which has been the cause of many women leaving money and provision for struggling musicians, artists, librarians, teachers, nurses and the like.
It is to be expected that when a New York section of the League of American Penwomen was organized Caroline F. E. Spurgeon, professor of English literature at the University of London and president of the Federation of University Women in Great Britain. She is in the United States to promote the idea of an international federation of college women.

"As a woman I am opposed to the enfranchisement of women," declared Mrs. Garrett A. Hobart, widow of former Vice President Hobart, recently in a statement refusing to contribute to the G. O. P. as long as it advocates the cause of woman suffrage. The latter, she said, and all constitutional amendments should be referred to the people.

Crooked Trails and Straight

By William MacLeod Raine

As Kate took the hat something seemed to tighten around her heart. It belonged to her father. His personality was stamped all over it. She even recognized a coffee stain on the under side of the brim. There was no need of the coffee stain, for her father's hat had been. A wave of despair swept over her. Again she was on the verge of breaking down, but controlled herself as with a tight curb.

"You say the robber had on his hat, and that somebody shot at him. Whoever it was must know the man who shot at him."

Gently Bolt took this last proof from her hope. "He is almost sure the man was your father."

"His name is Fendrick," she whispered. "Cass Fendrick."

"Cass Fendrick?" She whipped down at him. "Fendrick was the name of the man who shot at him. One would have guessed that the sound of the name would have been put out of business."

"Yes, I know he and your father aren't friends. They have had some trouble. But I know now. Arrest him to-night."

"I have to have evidence," Bolt said. "I can give you a motive. Listen. Father expected to prove up yesterday on his Del Rio claim."

"Cass Fendrick's sheep would have been cut off from the water. Father had to get out of the way not later than Wednesday, or else he would have been put out of business. He was very bitter about it. He had made threats."

"It would take more than threats to get rid of the best sheepman in Arizona, right in the middle of the day, in the heart of the town, without a soul knowing it."

"He was trapped somehow, of course," Bolt said.

"I believe it was a trap. A flash of inspiration came to her. "Cass Fendrick is the man you want, and he is the man I want. He killed father or abducted him. I know now. Arrest him to-night."

WHEN A MAN'S MARRIED

Dinner Stories

"So you really think your memory is improving under treatment. You remember things now, then?"

"Well, not exactly, but I have progressed so far that I can frequently remember what I ate."

"The village photographer was losing patience with his woman patron. 'Just a little smile, please,' he said, dwelling somewhat on the last word. A smile adds so much to the artistic effect."

"The woman shook her head. 'Of course, if you'd rather,' commented the artist, 'I could only remember what it is.'"

"I would not," came from the direction of the headrest. "Our one layin' ben died this morning, bacon's gone up tuppence, pound mother's had a couple of fits, my boy George has just broken a plate-glass window, and my husband is in a military hospital with four or five pounds of lead inside him. If you think I'm going to grind like a Cheshire cat when I'm up against that shower of blessings, you're scratched."

"Do you think eggs will be worth 10 cents a piece this winter?"

"I haven't taken up that side of the question," replied the farmer. "I've been wondering whether it's worth an egg."

BILLY WHISKERS

Billy Whiskers had gone through many streets and turned many corners after his fight with the butcher when he found himself opposite a beautiful, green, cool-looking park. "This is the place for me," thought Billy. "It looks nice and quiet and as I am tired I will go in and lie down under one of the trees and take a little rest."

After taking a nice rest and nap under the trees, he awoke, and feeling thirsty thought he would go and quench his thirst at a sparkling fountain he saw before him. He was quietly drinking and every once in a while swallowing a goldfish that came out of his mouth when someone from behind gave him a hard hit with a rake.

"It is a pity a goat can't take a drink without getting hit," thought Billy. "But as I have had enough I guess I will move on for I don't like the looks of this man's face, and I know he will give me no peace."

So he walked away slowly, just as if he were going away of his own accord, when the man gave him another hit with the rake. This was too much for Billy's placid temper; he turned on the man, who was gardener of the park, and sent him sprawling. "Baw-cock before him!" he yelled.

As Billy walked toward the high fence that encircled the park he saw a policeman coming in at the gate. "Now, then, you better get on your feet, it was a policeman, and he made for him running at full speed with head down, and before the policeman had even seen the goat he found himself hanging by the seat of his trousers to the sharp iron picket of the fence. Billy left him there sprawling, kicking, screaming, and calling for help while he made off as fast as his legs would carry him.

After Billy left, the policeman hanging on the fence he walked through the street after street trying to find his way out of the town, so he could go back to Nanny, but the more he thought of the trouble he was in, the more he felt that he was in a bad way. He was in a bad way, he was in a bad way, he was in a bad way.

GENUINE SINCERITY

Newspaper Examined Letter Files and Endorsed Honesty After Reading Grateful Expressions from Thousands of People.

For years the manufacturers of Bulgarian Blood Tea have told the people of America of the wonderful results obtained by regular users of this all-natural product. So many people have been fooled by various concoctions that in the beginning it was difficult to convince the masses, that Bulgarian Blood Tea, containing only the purest of natural herbs, roots, bark, leaves, seeds, berries and flowers, is what the human system requires. Bulgarian Blood Tea is an ancient formula being used by the natives of Bulgaria and Oriental Europe for over a 1,000 years. It is the only one in the line of old-fashioned ways, the juices from the raw herbs, remove the body poisons, preventing auto-intoxication and premature old age.

Bulgarian Blood Tea users have adopted a system. They believe after years of experience that this internal bath once or twice a week is necessary and they are reasonably certain that eating three meals each day keeps the internal machinery constantly on the job. They can understand why a tea composed of only of rare herbs, etc., known for their medicinal value, taken naturally, free from alcohol and injurious mineral drugs, was grown exactly for the purposes we state.

During the influenza epidemic of 1918 thousands of sufferers from this dread disease found prompt relief by using Bulgarian Blood Tea. To break up a cold and guard against influenza and pneumonia nothing equals this grand natural tea.

For years our volume of business has grown tremendously. The tea is sent to all parts of the world. The letters received from us are a telling of relief in cases of rheumatism, nervousness, run-down, tired feeling, sleeplessness, loss of appetite, indigestion, constipation, liver, stomach, kidney and bladder troubles, express gratitude for relief and new found health.

We learned that the National Labor Tribune, for 50 years an organ of working people, had waged a vigorous campaign in its columns against misleading patent medicines. If we could get the Tribune to publish a notice of our product, it would be a great help to our people

HASBROUCK QUILTS BELOIT; OSWEGO, RACINE COMING

(By FRANK SINCLAIR.)
Developments of great interest are taking place in the basketball situation here and vicinity. Aside from the booking of the Racine City basketball team by the Cardinals to play here next Saturday and the delay of a report that the Oswego Nationals were not to play here, the most startling is the statement issued from headquarters here today that Hasbrouck of the Beloit Fairies has broken away from the Gateway city team and may play with the Lakotas. It is reported that Hasbrouck has long been dissatisfied with the manner in which the Beloit team has been conducted. He has requested a stronger combination, and has decided to leave the team. Following the game last week between the Janesville five and the Fairies, he announced to the manager that he would no longer play at Beloit. Since then he has left the city and is now in Chicago, where he is now located.

Negotiations are now being carried on between him and the managers of the Cardinals with the hopes that he will accept their offers and join the local team. It is expected that he will be seen here in the next game.

An apparent confirmation of Hasbrouck's action is his absence Saturday when the Fairies were severely thrashed by the Red Cross at Watling. Ind., 17-12.

Oswego Coming.
Two reports were denied by the Cardinal managers today. The first was the story that the Oswego aggregation is not coming to Janesville. It develops that a number of telegrams have been exchanged between the managers of the teams in an effort to make satisfactory terms and one of these was sent yesterday by a newspaper man who jumped at the conclusion that the Cardinals have been booked to appear in Janesville February 21 and 22. The Cardinals may be playing them on both dates, the plan being to endeavor to have the Beloit Fairies play one of the days.

The second denial is in regard to the story emanating from the Windmill city that Beloit refuses to play at the Janesville court. That story appeared in a newspaper play down there, and the manager of the Cardinals, who would never play the Cardinals on that "slippery" Janesville floor and that in any games are played in the future they will have to be in Beloit. Denning says that he knows nothing about such talk and that moreover, he does not think that to play belongs to the Cardinals as the victors, and Beloit has nothing to say on the matter.

Champion of Army.
The game Saturday with Racine holds some good ball in store for the fans. The Racine team, representing the 121st regiment, 42 division, while in the service. Their record is 24 straight victories in winning the championship of the 5th military brigade in the United States and later the championship of the 88th division while the outfit was over in France under the auspices of the American Red Cross. After getting the title, the team traveled through France, England and Germany, knocking down all comers. When it is realized that basketball in the army is full of pep and requires the men to be in the pink of condition, it is readily seen what is in store for the weekend game. However, the Cardinals, in addition to hoping to have Hasbrouck with them, are positive of getting Young. The regular lineup otherwise will be composed of Dermody, Williams, Dalton and Brumm.

GOLDFISH CANNOT BOWL IN MANITOWOC MEET

With the report that the Goldfish are barred from bowling at the state meet at Manitowoc because Hank Robbins, one of their members is not registered in the American Bowling Association, and the alleged threat that the matter will be taken up with officers of the A. B. C. it is stated by the officials of the city league that when Hank was asked to come into the league last fall he bucked. At that time he said to have stated that he saw no use in belonging to the A. B. C. and refused to divide the games of that league between his and the Arcade alleys. He is proprietor of the West side.

Manitowoc Teams Rolled Last Night

Manitowoc, Feb. 3.—Last night's schedule in the annual state bowling tournament was taken up by Manitowoc teams, with a few visiting teams, and no high scores were registered. All leaders held their places after the day's bowling. Most of tonight's schedule will be taken up by local teams.

ROLLIE WILLIAMS TO QUIT MADISON

Franklin (Rollie) Williams, crack guard of the Lakota Cardinals, and student at the University of Wisconsin, will bid goodbye to the college this week for the balance of the school year, according to announcement which he has just made. He plans to put in the spring and summer working, but will return to his studies in September. His home is at Edgerton.

Rollie is a Badger freshman, which accounts for his absence from the varsity basketball five so far this year. However, had he decided to remain at Madison he would now be eligible for the team. His playing with the Cards has not only helped bring fame to the local quietest but recognition at the college where it was hoped that he would add considerable strength to the weakening varsity.

In addition to being a basket star, Williams won notice last fall as a halfback on the freshman football eleven. Using his startling winning pivot, he often made tremendous gains against the varsity. He has developed an individual style that will undoubtedly give him a place on the varsity next fall.

Rollie's decision to quit school for the time being will not in any way affect his playing with the Cards. With Eddie Dermody, Motsey Dalton and Kybo Brown he makes a combination that is hard to beat.

SQUADS WRITE!

When I was still a stripling,
Picking literature at random,
I perused the works of Kipling
If I couldn't understand 'em,
I would long to dream and dally on A gray Gethsemane galleon.
And watch the Sinla dock-lights Die behind.

How I yearned to trek for miles
For some Burma maiden's smiles!
(I had never left the farm, but never mind!)

My career was then as striking
As a scare-crow's or a snow-man's.
But since then I've done some hick-ing—
Clear from fairy-land to no-man's.

I've been shipped across the water,
Groomed and ticketed for slaughter,
Where I learned width and meanness of the sea.
I picked up at least a trifle
Of the habits of a rifle.

And some other things I'd read in "Soldiers Three."
I was taught what cold and mud is.
And I know what rank and grade is.
I have learned a lot from buddies
And a fraction from the ladies.

I've no doubt it was romantic,
Though the cooties drove me frantic,
And I know it might have been a
And a fraction from the ladies.

But when next we can a kaiser,
Mr. Kipling, I'll be wiser—I'll stay home and light the blooming war in my nose.

New a lot of congressmen want to General Harts along with Hardy. What's the use of trying to get an American general, says ex-Sergeant SOL, when the allies can't even get the Kaiser away from Holland. Our army certainly beats the Dutch.

AND SAVE THE WAR TAX
It would cost a billion dollars to wireless Mars, a scientist tells us.
Send the message collect, is our advice.

ONE LESS, ANYWAY
It's a good thing the Kaiser didn't realize his dream about taking out the American citizenship. He'd probably throw his helmet into the presidential ring with the slogan "I got you out of war."

THEY TOOK THE MARK
It was after the St. Mihiel drive, when a German prisoner, a not-come-appeared and demanded to see the officer in charge of the crowded prisoners' cage. The request was granted, and the sergeant was allowed to sneak.

"I was just paying off my company when the Americans came up and captured me," he said, "and I've got all the money with me. I want to get rid of it. Can I pay off my men?"
"There would be no objection to that," said the American commander,
"if you find the men."

"I have, sir," was the answer, "the whole company is out there in the cage. They all came over with me."

There are two kinds of women war workers in France, says
"Beary," the Caterer Queen, those who jacked around with officers when they got the chance, and those who didn't get asked to.

NEWSIES DEFEAT LINCOLN SCHOOL

The Marines, representing the newsies of the Gazette, beat the Rail-splitters of Lincoln school, at basketball 25-5 in the local "Y" gym. The soldiers played a dashing game allowing Lincoln's men only one basket and three free throws.

WANTS TO KNOW WHAT HAS BECOME OF THE ICE SKATING RINK?

What has become of the efforts to clean the ice on the gas house pond for skating? Such a question has been heard considerably during the past month after it was announced through the columns that the city was taking steps to prepare a rink for skating fans, especially the adults.

Several enthusiasts journeyed to the pond after the article appeared, only to be disappointed at the very small size of the pond cleared, declaring that three or four times as much should be swept free of snow.
But just as the agitation became arose, several heavy snowstorms spoiled any efforts to keep the ice cleaned off.

There is no doubt that we shall have sufficient cold weather yet before the winter is over to provide good, solid ice. Therefore the following letter which has been received is interesting.

Sporting Editor: Dear Sir:
You have a photo outside your office showing how good a time they have in Switzerland skating. WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH JANESVILLE? Plenty of ice around, only not cleaned off.

Cooted over a dozen skaters who had returned from the pond because nobody cleans off the ice. With flu and smallpox in the city, there is no healthier sport than skating. Perhaps a little article from you will help better things a little bit. Hope to have said nothing to offend your feelings. Sincerely,
HERMAN A. GOTRING.

LOCAL BOWLERS HAVE UNLUCKY STREAK AT MANITOWOC TOURNEY

Twenty local bowlers of the Gazette and Arcade teams and friends are wondering whether it is advisable to enter in state bowling tournaments held in small cities. Their experiences at Manitowoc, from which they returned late last night, were not all of the most congenial.

While the local men were far off form in their bowling, they lay this to the long delays in train travel and the irregular hours at which they had to bowl. They were scheduled to appear in the five men events at 10:30 Sunday night; it was after eleven before they got started, and 2 a. m. by the time they finished. The doubles and singles were set for 8 o'clock Monday morning; they had about four hours of sleep before taking to the alleys.

Complaints of poor management were said to be extremely dirty and swept off only once a day. On Monday the pin boys struck necessitating the hiring of inexperienced setters.

Because of conditions at the meet, none of the players were able to procure scores to bring back. The Gazette team, it is stated, rolled 2,363 in the five men event and the Arcade 2,333. The scores of the doubles and singles follow, with Trieloff rolling high at 539.

MADISON TO HAVE BIG SKI TOURNEY

The first ski meet to be held in Madison will occur Feb. 14, under the auspices of the Badger Ski club of the university.

Although the present jump is not adequate to accommodate a meet of any great importance, the postponing of the international meet which is held at Stoughton each year caused the Badger club to bring the ski men to Madison for the event. George Martin, president of the club, and Frederic W. Beckman, correspondent, have completed detailed arrangements.

Twenty men from five neighboring ski clubs will be guests of the university ski men on the day following the prom. Representatives from Eau Claire, Chippewa Falls, Milwaukee, North Star and North Ski clubs will compete with Wisconsin Norwegian skiers. Some of the best amateur skiers in the country will take part in the competition and some thrillers are promised in the afternoon's events.

The Badger Ski club has just been taken into membership in the International Ski Association of America.
Plans are under consideration at the present time for the construction of a steel jump next year to replace the inadequate wooden structure now in use behind the hydraulics building.

High Grade Cars

"With the car shortage more acute than ever and no relief in sight, motor car manufacturers are banding every effort to provide every facility for the proper care and maintenance of the automobiles now in service.

"The treatment received by the average car is the reverse of charitable, in fact, it would come under the eyes of the society for the prevention of cruelty to motor cars, if such an organization were in existence.

"The importance of educating owners and users to take better care of their cars and keep them in order as far as they can, also came up for discussion. It is also planned to encourage drivers to do more of their own repair work, giving attention to minor adjustments, the use of proper lubricants, etc."

The above are extracts from articles appearing recently in the Metropolitan Press.

Our Service is designed to do just the things these clippings suggest, namely, to take proper care of your car for you—especially for business
